PRICE THREE CENTS

THREE MILLION DOLLARS G.O.P. NEED - BUTLER

Presidential, Senatorial and Congressional Campaigns to Be Taken Care of Out of This Sum

DENIES CHARGES

No Desire, No Money, for "Sleek Fund" Purposes, National Chairman Tells Senate Committee

(By the Associated Press)

Chicago, Oct. 17.—William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, informed the special campaign investigating committee of the senate today that it is the "hope" and "expectation" of his organization to raise a total of $3,000,000 for the national campaign, presidential, senatorial, and congressional.

At the same time, Mr. Butler denied charges of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, the independent presidential candidate, that his committee would mobilize a large mass of funds in certain states during the last weeks of the campaign. His denial was in reply to questions by Senator Shepard, farm, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota.

"We have no such intention and have made no such preparations," Mr. Butler said. "We have no ability to do it. We have no funds for purposes of that kind. There is no intention of doing anything of the sort. I want very much to conduct this campaign in such a way that when I get through it will be something to be proud of."

Original Estimated Cost $2,500,000.

Under cross examination by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, regarding the budget plans of his committee, Mr. Butler testified that originally he had estimated $2,500,000 as the amount required for the national presidential campaign. This sum was to be raised by $500,000 later, he added, after it had been decided to take care of the senatorial and congressional campaigns as well.

Calling attention that evidence before the committee was that the Republican organization already had collected approximately $1,500,000, Senator Caraway asked if it was expected to collect an additional $1,500,000.

"Yes," Mr. Butler said.

"What are your plans for collecting it?" asked the senator.

"Nothing, except the solicitations which are going on all over the country, among our friends, for funds," was the reply. "There is no special plan."

Pressed by the Arkansas senator, Mr. Butler said the collection of funds was under the direction of the national treasurer, William V. Hodges.

"I have talked with the treasurer, and I know what the general plan is," Mr. Butler added.

Money Comes from Friends.

"Would you mind telling us what that general plan is?" pursued Senator Caraway.

"Why, the plan is simply to be in communication with our friends all over the country," Mr. Butler replied, "for them to send in their subscriptions, that is all. We have had contributions accepted in various places for that purpose, I presume."

Senator Caraway developed that the national committee had assessed New York state for $1,000,000 of the proposed $2,500,000 campaign fund. Pennsylvania was assessed $600,000, and Illinois $500,000 so that Senator Caraway said, three states were to raise two-thirds of the total. He added that on the same proportion of assessment among the other states, the committee would have raised something like $1,000,000. Mr. Butler took exception to that conclusion.

Before adjourning to await the arrival here, probably Saturday, of Frank P. Walsh, Kansas City, to present Senator LaFollette's charges of a proposed Republican "sleek fund" for use in doubtful states, the committee questioned George Jerry Park, residing the $425,000 expended by the Republican publicity bureau.

Butler Wishes No Defeat.

Mr. Butler testified that one big item of expense was that of publishing plates and materials to be used in printing by the national committee to the national committee. Some of these were editorial from the national Republican committee, others from newspapers and were prepared in Republican headquarters.

Under further questioning, Mr. Butler said his analysis was "about" and that it was expected to need little additional funds during the campaign. He placed the political expenses of the Chicago office of $100,000 and those of New York and Washington at $100,000.

Appearing at the request of the committee and taking the oath, Mr. Butler was on the stand for more than an hour. At the outset he told the white-collared critics that the belief was in his organization had not yet come to a pretty nethermost, believing that we were going to make a tremendous campaign in view of the expenditures which had already been made.

"I think it will take about what we thought."

DAVIS REPEATS HIS FREEDOM POSITION

Tells Chicago Foreign Sections America Made Up of Vast Number of Units

(By the Associated Press)

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Sounding again his position on questions of religious liberty, personal rights, and eulogizing Woodrow Wilson for championing the cause of a "determination in behalf of smaller nations," John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, tonight concluded his third campaign visit to Chicago and started southward to East St. Louis, Ill., and St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. Davis rushed through his last few hours here, making three speeches in as many sections of the city tonight. The first was before an audience in the Bohemian quarter, the second before a Jewish gathering, and the third before an audience of Polish people.

Without taking into consideration the effect of Mr. Davis' two-day stay in Chicago on the presidential campaign in Illinois, state and local leaders of the party made no secret of their feeling that he had done much to solidify and stimulate the Cool Democratic faction.

See America as Mixture.

In his address in the Bohemian quarter, Mr. Davis said he did not see America as a "real block of concrete," but rather as a "great triumph column, built of many stones and many colors, making a single structure that no storm could efface or destroy."

The Democratic standard bearer asserted that the peoples combined to make this structure could have equal opportunity by industry, the building of character and the practice of thrift; provided they lived under a government that gave special privilege to none and equal justice to all.

The nominee went on to say that I was not one of those who subscribe to the theory that when people came here from foreign lands to establish their homes they should cease to remember their mother country. He added that all that should be asked of the new comers is that they do their part to build up the country and that they be patriotic and honest.

LA FOLLETTE HITS PRIVATE MONOPOLY PRIVATE MONOPOLY

Ruled Executive and Congress for Six Years, He Claims—No Fear of Court or Justice

(By the Associated Press)

Sioux City, S. D., Oct. 17.—Assailing the private monopoly system in an address tonight, Senator Robert M. LaFollette, independent candidate for president, declared that "the two percent that owns 70 per cent of the nation's wealth are today its sovereigns."

"For six years," he continued, "they have ruled congress, they have ruled the executive, they have ruled the courts, they have ruled the interests of the people, but in the interest of private wealth."

"They used the department of justice to trample under foot the constitution and the bill of rights. They used it as an agency of terror, not only during the war, but after the war, as well."

"During the last six years, this 'invisible government' has become visible. It openly flaunts its power, it fears neither the court nor the department of justice."

"Why, the plan is simply to be in communication with our friends all over the country," Mr. Butler replied, "for them to send in their subscriptions, that is all. We have had contributions accepted in various places for that purpose, I presume."

Senator Caraway developed that the national committee had assessed New York state for $1,000,000 of the proposed $2,500,000 campaign fund. Pennsylvania was assessed $600,000, and Illinois $500,000 so that Senator Caraway said, three states were to raise two-thirds of the total. He added that on the same proportion of assessment among the other states, the committee would have raised something like $1,000,000. Mr. Butler took exception to that conclusion.

GAS COMPANY EXPANDS

Albion, Oct. 17.—The Public Service Company has been granted a franchise to expand its system of gas service in the New York State.

The company has the right to expand its system of gas service in the state of New York and those of New York and Washington at $100,000.

Appearing at the request of the committee and taking the oath, Mr. Butler was on the stand for more than an hour. At the outset he told the white-collared critics that the belief was in his organization had not yet come to a pretty nethermost, believing that we were going to make a tremendous campaign in view of the expenditures which had already been made.

Golf

AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

It is necessary to change the style of play when golfing in the rain. So, what changes should be made?

Answered by

V. E. WALKER

National open champion.

Golfing style must be changed when playing in the rain. Here are some of the necessary modifications in form. Try and play the ball up in the air more as the carry is very necessary in a rain on account of the blowing up of the course. Tee the ball higher and in playing through the fairway with wood, give a spoon preference over a brassie, so as to get the ball up. Hit off your shots to the hole as if you were trying to hole out. In other words, be bold and then bolder.

MANY BIG FOOTBALL GAMES

Outstanding Notable Meeting, a Championship Aspirations of Colleges Placed on Today's Schedule—Some International Contests.

(By the Associated Press.)

New York, Oct. 17.—Football will move into the sun on eastern grids tomorrow with an array of games attracting not only exceptional interest but having a vital bearing on championship hopes of many outstanding elevens.

Baldwin has this stage of the season witnessed a schedule including such notable battles as those between Yale and Dartmouth at New Haven, Harvard and Holy Cross at Cambridge, Army and Notre Dame at the Polo Grounds, Princeton and Navy at Princeton, and Cornell and Columbia at Washington.

Washington and Jefferson oppose Carnegie Tech at Washington, Pa., while Lafayette, already shaping up among the best in the east, takes on Bucknell at Lewisburg, Pa. West Virginia faces a comparatively easy assignment, in Geneva, while Pittsburgh, which conquered the Mountaineers last Saturday, invades Baltimore to meet John Hopkins.

Amherst meets Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn., in the first of the "little three" series, while Brown opposes Boston University at Providence, and Vermont tackles Springfield in other New England attractions.

Boston college goes out of its territory for what promises to be an interesting tussle with Syracuse, a game which holds a good share of upstate interest, while Colgate invades the middle west to meet Nebraska in one of the outstanding inter-sectional contests of the day.

BIG TEN CLASSIC TODAY

Illinois and Michigan, Co-Tite Holders to Dedicate Stadium at Urbana.

(By the Associated Press.)

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Illinois and Michigan with the 1923 western conference gridiron championship shared between them, meet tomorrow at Urbana, Ill., to dedicate Illinois' new $1,700,000 stadium in the outstanding game of the 1924 season in the west. Seats have been sold for a record breaking crowd of 67,000 spectators.

Outside the Illinois-Michigan clash, three other games between conference opponents will be decided tomorrow. Minnesota, fresh from her victory over the Haskell Indians, meets Madison, not as fresh from her 7 to 7 tie with the Cole college.

A pair of non-conference games wind up the day's program for the other Big Ten teams, Ohio and Iowa. Ohio State will take on Ohio Wesleyan at Columbus, and Iowa meets Lawrence college at Iowa City.

DAILY DOINGS DISCUSSED

The Commercial Airship.

The flight of the great air liner is interesting because it is the first crossing of the Atlantic by a commercial airship. For a test it goes very well, and at this stage neither governments nor private capital would be justified in expending enormous sums for experimental purposes several times as large. Yet the consensus of opinion among experts who have gone into the metric of air traffic, is that the future—if this type has a future—lies with the big airship. ZR-3 is the only measured beside other failures made by man. Alongside of the ship and slow-moving it looks ridiculous but the bulk is in the very nature of a gas bag and ship of this kind must be maneuvered by their own means; so far as can be figured out in advance their point of maximum efficiency at which, if at all, they can compete comes at a size far greater than has thus far been attempted.

THE LAST CHANCE.

Now that the registration to vote is open the readers are necessary to register if they expect to vote in the November election. More than this, it is important to convey the right to vote at the general election as a duty which no qualified voter can neglect, for the right to vote is a privilege, but the obligation to have part, through choice of candidate, in the work of government.

Today is the last day of registration and after the last chance will citizens have to register in anticipation of election. For this reason The Star takes this opportunity, even at risk of a bit more severe censure, to urge that every voter who has not already registered perform that necessary act before the closing of the polls for registration at 10 o'clock tonight. This applies directly to the city of Oneonta, where personal registration is necessary; but it is suggested that in other districts outside city limits voters, particularly new voters, should know that their names are on the rolls. Mistakes sometimes occur and the names of new residents or new voters are sometimes in such overlooked or unknown. To each new voter in rural localities, therefore, the suggestion is made that the probability that his or her name is on the enrollment book be made a certainty.

There will be no day for registration anywhere after today; and it is vitally important that the present opportunity be embraced more especially in Oneonta, where personal registration is necessary. The registration places in this city will be open from 7 o'clock this morning to 10 o'clock tonight, giving every qualified voter plenty of time to enroll.

Briefly summarized, here are a few points which readers should consider:

Every citizen above the age of 21 years is a potential voter.

Every citizen should consider participation in the affairs of government not merely a privilege but an obligation.

Every citizen should aid in selecting for office those candidates whose policies of government agree most nearly with his own views.

Every citizen, therefore, should vote, and as a preliminary to such action he must register.

"Computing" May Cut Melon.

International Business Machines will declare a large stock dividend at the November meeting of directors, divided as exchange item. However, while there is a belief that a stock dividend distribution is possible some time in the future, the general belief is that the first action of International Business Machines' directors will be to split up their stock. On the greater number of shares, it is believed, the dividend to be paid will represent a larger return to stockholders. Then if political conditions and other features warrant a capitalization of some part or surplus by stock dividend distribution, it is reported, the directors may decide to authorize such melon cutting.

New Road Completed.

The first shovel of concrete was thrown into the new road which has been under construction between Cherry Valley and East Springfield Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The new stretch is about five miles long and the only remaining job is completing the shoulders. The total cost was approximately $24,000.

GOOD REASON FOR REJOICING

Nevertheless in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.—Luke 10:20.

Extra-ordinary powers seem to have been bestowed upon the seventy disciples of Jesus when he sent them out on their first missionary tour.

They had a success which surprised them, and they returned with joy to tell their Master how they had succeeded to overcome even the devils in his name.

But he told them not to think so much of that as of the simple blessing of returning to the kingdom of heaven.

That was their greatest reason for rejoicing.

Personal gifts and achievements beyond the ordinary, or dwelt upon too much carry with them the danger of self-exaltation.

Then the place of removal of personal gifts and achievements beyond the ordinary, or dwelt upon too much carry with them the danger of self-exaltation.

Body and personal eloquence, power of leadership, healing skill, ability to conquer and discern opposition, that subtle force of personality which we call charm—these gifts have been conferred by God to them into the pillars of secret pride.

Whether we are specially gifted or not, it is well and always the best to rejoice less in what we have done for God, and more in what God has done for us.

He has sent his Son to save us. He has called us by his Spirit.

He has written our names in heaven and promised us immortality.

WELCOMES ELOPERS

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, Jr., Greeted in Motherly Fashion by Governor's Wife.

Albany, Oct. 17.—The executive mansion last night jealously guarded its first elopers from a curious public. For when Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, Jr., arrived at the official residence of the state, shortly after their arrival here from New York city, the gates clanged shut, shades were drawn, telephone communication was cut off and the honeymooners were completely isolated from the cold outside world.

The couple have not yet decided on their plans for the next few days. It is possible they may go to Ithaca late today to see the governor and personally receive his parental blessing, already given by long distance phone.

Mrs. Smith is apparently as well satisfied with her new daughter-in-law as the governor. For just before the doors of the mansion were shut upon the elopers last night, the curious few in the street saw the first lady of the state step into the porch and greet Mrs. Smith with an old-fashioned motherly hug.

The arrival at the station was without incident. Although a large crowd of Albanians had gathered to welcome the Syracuse girl and her popular husband, Miss Emily Smith, the governor's eldest daughter, had arranged to avoid a demonstration and in a minute or two after the arrival of the train, the newlyweds were being sped to the mansion by automobile.

It was indicated at the capitol this morning that "Young Al" has not yet determined on his immediate future. It is believed, however, he will continue his law course at Fordham university in New York city, and his work as clerk in a New York law office where he earns $20 a week. At the conclusion of his law course, he is assured of a good position in the metropolis.

Seeks $15,000 School Verdict.

The application for permission to appeal from the verdict of $15,000 secured against defendant No. 1, town of Walton, in favor of Mabel Williams, has been denied by the appellate division. It will be recalled that the child had her leg badly maimed by falling from the wagon in which she was being taken to school. The appellate division unanimously sustained the verdict on the appeal.

Wood Chopping Bee.

The officers of the Ossipee-Schoharie Boy Scout council are planning a wood chopping bee at the new site of the Boy Scout camp on Hyde Park Mountain. The purpose of the demonstration is to make a start toward putting the grounds in condition for the encampment next summer.

Where Fish Lures Are Made.

Two million or more dollars worth of fish lures and artificial baits are sold in the United States and Canada every year, and three quarters of the lines are made in Cortland and Ithaca.

2,000 PHOTOS FOR ONE.

Detailed Aerial Representation of City Shows Even Park Trees.

Mayor Hyatt yesterday accepted on behalf of the city a remarkable aerial photograph of New York and its streets. The map was ordered from the Fairchild Aerial Camera corporation in July, 1923, by Chief Engineer Arthur Tuttle.

The map, eight by twelve feet in size, shows every part of the city in greatest detail. More than 2,000 aerial photographs were taken with a specially constructed camera to produce this one. Even trees in Central park can be counted. — New York Times.

But a certain local teacher has a great experience with Boys and Boys' Clothes—

We asked her if it was possible for her to tell the difference between good school suits and poor school suits by the lessons.

"Can I? You can be sure I can!"

The boys in my class who wear Jack O'Leather Suits are not only better dressed but they get better marks in their work and fewer marks in the woodshed than the chaps whose parents spare the quality and spoil the boy.

The car is six inches longer than the previous model and has many niceties which make it most attractive in appearance, streamlining being conspicuous in its every feature. The engine and chassis are substantially the same as formerly but a nickel radiator and a one glass windshield are easily discerned. Mr. Murray was so well pleased with the one exhibited in New York that he placed an order for one with Mr. Dewar for early delivery by phone from the city named before his return home. It is a seven passenger sedan, or suburban.

HANDY GARAGE BUSINESS SOLD.

The business established by Guy M. Francis at 291-293 Main street and known as the Handy Garage and Drive-In Filling station, has been purchased by Storer & Schifauer, who have taken possession and will continue the business, devoting their entire time and attention to the repair shop, garage and filling station.

Mr. Storer has for about two years been conducting a garage and repair shop on Gilbert street and his partner, Mr. Schifauer, has for about the same period been employed at the D. & L. garage on Market street. They will both devote their time and efforts to the upbuilding of the new business and will specialize in repair work, garage with steam heated space, crank case service, tire repairing, battery charging and car washing.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES

Freshman Rules Council Board to Enforce Freshman Rules — Junior Class Meeting Held — Year Book Staff Appointed — Rush Parties — Orations.

Student activities were renewed with spirit after the holiday on Monday. Meetings of various organizations opened during the week to discuss business of present interest. Marion Phife, a junior member of the freshman rule council board, called a meeting of the freshman class officers to secure their support in enforcing the freshman rules. The entire council will see that the rules are enforced and will levy penalties on students who do not live up to them.

A meeting of the junior class was held Thursday night after school to elect a representative to the student league board. The vote was tied on two of the nominees; so a second vote will be taken next week. Plans for the freshman stunt party, the details and nature of which are to be designated by the juniors, were discussed, and a committee appointed.

The president of the senior class has appointed the year book staff for this year as follows: Mary Ronan and Marguerite Jones, supervisors; Pauline Olumette, advertising; Mildred Caine, editing; Margaret Onderdonk, sorority notes; Sylvia Rines, faculty; Fanabelle Svinitsky, personals; Jane Buck, photographs; Irene Collier, freshman and junior notes; Edna Ritchie, literary editor; Esther Beams, art. Work on the book is to begin immediately to insure an especially fine one.

Rush parties were given a week ago Thursday by the Chionians, Agonians and Arethians. The Chionians gave a newspaper party with the rooms decorated entirely with newspapers and the guests wearing costumes made of newspapers. The Agonians gave a pirate party with all guests dressed to represent pirates of the olden days. The Sigma Kappas gave a pledge party at which four new members were pledged to the sorority. They are: Carolyn Able of Peekskill; Helen Rony of Spring Valley; Elinor Burns of Fort Edwards; Alice Bolvin of Victory Mills. On last Tuesday night the Arethians gave a banquet at the Country Club.

Orations were given during the week by Christina Duryea, Facts About the American Indian; Mildred Frink, Indiana of Chenango county; and Myrtle Humphrey, Rural Quebec.

Miss Edie VanDusen, who has been the guest in this city for several days, of her cousin, Mrs. Elizabeth Hill, has returned to her home in Morris.

Miss Marion Yager of 19 Ford avenue, left Friday morning for New York city, where she will be a guest of friends for the remainder of the month.

President and General Manager Flumer of the Oswego & Delaware Telephone company left yesterday for New York city, on a brief business sojourn.

Mrs. Caroline E. Livingston of San Diego, Calif., who had been a guest for some time of her sister, Mrs. Fred P. Hunt of Valleyview street,

ALARM FOR BRUSH FIRE.
Stamford Residents Frightened When Sparks Fly Near Gasoline Tanks.
Stamford, Oct. 17.—The fire siren called the fire department at 4 p. m. Thursday to a brush fire near the electric light power house near the E. B. Decker feed store. Employees of the light company were engaged in cleaning up the premises around the power plant and built a fire to burn the brush, etc. Residents, afraid of sparks which were flying in the direction of the Standard Oil gasoline tanks, nearby, sounded a fire alarm. The chemicals extinguished the blaze.

Hiram P. Maxim

Calls Willys-Knight
"Smoother Than Most Sixes and Eights"

HIRAM PERCY MAXIM,
President of the Maxim Silencer
Company, says: "The Lanchester Balancer certainly takes out the vibration. It makes the motor smoother than most six and eight-cylinders on the road today."

No Vibration

Ever since automobiles have been built, engineers have been eternally striving to conquer engine vibration. Now the new Willys-Knight achieves positive engine smoothness by a device so simple and efficient that all engineers are wondering why it wasn't invented years ago . . .

The Lanchester Balancer . . .
the discovery of Dr. F. W. Lanchester, F. R. S., builder of one of the most expensive motor cars in Great Britain. By securing the United States rights for the use of this remarkable invention, Willys-Knight introduces in America an entirely new conception of enjoyable motoring.

This is still another triumph for a car already famous for its engine. The Willys-Knight sleeve-valve engine actually improves with use. Never needs valve-grinding. Never needs carburetor-cleaning. Owners report 50,000 miles and more without an engine adjustment.

Everybody is talking about

Willys-Knight's vibrationless

performance—and everybody who rides talks of the thrill of it. If only for the sake of a new experience, drive a Willys-

Knight over the road today at all speeds.

SAFE AND SANE MOTORISTS

THE MIRTH OF THE MOMENT

Syracuse Man Propounds Series of Questions All Motorists Should Ask Themselves.

A Syracuse motorist has proposed some very pertinent questions to automobile owners and motor vehicle drivers. Under the caption "Are You or are you not?" the editor of the Syracuse publication asks: Are you or are you not the driver who leaves the curb or parking place without signaling?

The driver who blows his horn at street intersections and feels that his only has been done toward punctuality at that point.

The driver who deliberately assumes the right of way when he is wrong or because the other car doesn't look as good or as large as his.

The driver who thinks because he is on the outskirts of the city that he can pass a street car on the left.

The driver who forgets the other fellow when he parks his car in one of the few available places and takes up room enough for two cars.

The driver who passes the car ahead at the top of a hill or going around a curve.

The driver who thinks his horn is an ornament and passes the fellow ahead by speed alone.

The driver who depends upon his brakes in the emergency, which often arises at the blind intersection of street or highway.

The driver who drives down the middle of the road.

The driver who doesn't drive according to the Golden Rule.

The driver who thinks the children are not going to run out into the street.

And—the driver who mixes gasoline and alcohol.

The driver who forgets that any time is train time at the railroad or trolley crossing.

GIVEN FAREWELL PARTY

Last evening some 18 friends of Harold Vanderburgh gave him a farewell meeting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Vanderburgh, at 18 Draper street. The evening was passed in music and dancing, with an elaborate feast. The occasion was very enjoyable, the only feature marred the pleasure being the thoughts of the early departure of the honored guest of the evening. He leaves late the coming week with his parents for Plattsburgh, to which place his father has been transferred by the D. & H. company. Mr. Vanderburgh has been engaged as assistant division accountant at the division offices here.

Phone Abandonment Charge.

Frank Macumber of Unadilla was arrested in Oneonta yesterday by state troopers on a charge of felonious abandonment. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Edward E. Mills of Unadilla, waived extradition, and held for the grand jury. He was taken to the Cooperstown jail.

Macumber is alleged to have deserted his wife last Friday. She is said to have been destitute and in a precarious condition. Last Wednesday, Mrs. Macumber gave birth to a child and the continued absence of her husband lead to his arrest.

Walton Man Predicts Mild Fall.

Major James L. Webb of Walton, who established his reputation as a weather prophet in his neighborhood a year ago of an open winter with little snow and in the spring forecast a cool summer, predicts a late and somewhat warm fall with comparatively mild weather until late in the season, followed by a winter with no deep snowfall at one time. He believes the temperature the ensuing winter will not be as mild as last winter, but the other hand will not be characterized by the extreme cold of some winters.

NEW YORK STATE APPLES

HOMESPUN YARNS

Farmers with Orchards Are Nurturing a Source of Income by Pulling to Care for Trees.

"More apples and fewer worms" is the battle cry of the American Agriculturist, which in urging farmers to care for neglected apple trees reminds them that most people are strictly vegetarian when it comes to eating fruit.

"If a crusade for better apples did no more than to insure a plentiful supply of fruit for the farmers' family during winter, it would be worth while," says C. M. Palmer, writing in the American Agriculturist. "But apples should be good, sound, wholesome and free from insects to make them worth much to anybody."

"I was in Iowa recently with a plan for the advertising and better marketing of apples. This plan is built around the idea of insuring the fruit production to the home folks. The men who sell fruit in the state—the wholesalers and the retailers approved the plan but said it couldn't be worked in Iowa because the state produces too many wormy apples. 'What happens to these wormy apples?' was my natural question. 'Oh, they are dumped on the market for what they will bring,' was the usual reply, and that set me to wondering what sort of a state government there must be to permit the sale or offering for sale of wormy food."

"What if the manufacturers of breakfast foods, the packers of canned goods, the sellers of dried fruits or the handlers of meat products were to offer to consumers a lot of wormy products? Such products would be condemned out of hand, their purveyors would be denounced by press, pulpit and politicians, and Fort Madison would gain in population if the practice were not stopped immediately."

"New York can produce as good apples as can be grown anywhere, but the trees must have reasonable care and the fruit must be reasonably well packed to compete with the specialized products from elsewhere. Farmers are encouraged to go to extremes in procuring and maintaining first-class dairy herds, fine poultry stocks, good seed, and right fertilizers and the proper machinery and equipment with which to make the most of their farming. We don't find little worms that cause all the mischief in the bacon or 'side meat' any more, but we are likely to commit mayhem on a lively little boarder if we undertake to eat a homegrown apple without our glasses on."

Even a few poor apples hurt the market, says Mr. Palmer.

"There are two results: First, the customer is dissatisfied and ceases buying apples for a time. Second, the retailer's sales are slow because of a high price on an inferior article, and he loses through deterioration of the stock left on his hands. The farmer and the retailer and the consumer lose in the long run. The farming industry is not doing itself any good by keeping down its standards on this one branch of its activity while all concerned are trying to improve standards in other directions."

BIG FOUR' HEADS FAIL TO APPEAR AT RAIL CONFERENCE

New York, Oct. 17.—Executives of the eastern railroads Thursday resumed their monthly conference under the chairmanship of the New York Central presidents.

Rev. Roderick MacLeod of Hanover, Conn., has accepted a call to the First Presbyterian church of Norwich to become its pastor at a salary of $3,000 per annum. He is 37 years old and a graduate of Williams college.

Scott Hoiland of Gilberts has bought the Prattsville News of which he at one time was foreman.

At the annual village election in Richfield Springs, which was held on Tuesday, James McRae was elected president and Allen J. Bloomfield and Clarence E. Ackley trustees for two years.

The Department of Highways in Pennsylvania has arranged for the planting of flowering grasses, shrubs and trailing vines along the state roads in such places as to hide the scars where cuts and fills have been made.

At a recent debate in the Sherburne High school the question of bobbed hair was discussed, the girls approving and the boys disapproving the short cut. The judges favored the boys, but it is not stated that the girls have been given a chance to express their views.

Failure of the heads of the "big four"—the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, and Nickel Plate railroads—to attend the meeting centered the discussion principally on routine business, the most important question being the stabilization of labor. No new developments were reported.

While the regrouping of the eastern railroads into new trunk line systems is considered the most important problem now before the carriers, discussion of the subject was deferred today in the absence of the "big four" executives who last week presented a revised plan of consolidation to the Interstate Commerce commission.

A MONSTER PUMPKIN.

S. K. Waller has an exhibition in one of his windows in his blacksmith shop one of the largest squash-pumpkins ever raised in this locality. It tips the scales at 62 pounds. Who can beat this squash story? It was raised on the Frank Baldwin farm, in this village.—Marineville correspondent.

Re-elected as Jefferson county's assemblyman in 1922 by a plurality of nearly 8,000 over his Democratic opponent, Mr. Edmund Machold of this city from active political life, this fall will bring an intermission in the long session of Jefferson county Republicans, who have arisen to positions of prominence in state or national politics. It will close, for the time at least, the political career of a man who has been in the New York state legislature continuously since 1912, serving during the last four sessions as speaker of the assembly.

CLARADYNE Sold on Merit Only

— You Can't Fool The Public —

The CLARADYNE is sold entirely on its merit, as it is the most popular Radio in this section today

We invite comparison and will leave it entirely to your judgment as we know that no other machine will give the results for the money. Many have bought CLAR-A-DYNES after trying several higher priced machines. We sold more radios during the first 15 days of October than we did during any month since the CLAR-A-DYNE came on the market. There's a reason.

Gentlemen:
It might be of interest to you to know that the 4-tube Clar-A-Dyne and Manhattan Loud Speaker you installed in my home in March has given fine satisfaction.

We find it very easy to operate and it is no trouble to bring in stations with loud speaker volume.

We heartily recommend the Clar-A-Dyne to any one desiring a real good radio at moderate cost.

Yours truly,
Carl E. Steere,

Gentlemen:
After using the Clar-A-Dyne for six weeks, we are more than pleased with it.

During this time we have clearly received from sixty-two stations, the largest percentage of them on the loud speaker.

We cannot recommend the Clar-A-Dyne too highly.

Very truly yours,
Bissell & Cole

Gentlemen:
After using the 4-tube Clar-A-Dyne for three weeks, I think they are the very best machine you can buy for the money.

We get far-away stations on the Loud Speaker and the other night we had Fort Worth, Texas.

You can refer anyone to me.
Very truly yours,
Claude G. Layman

Gentlemen:
Before I installed a Clar-A-Dyne, I tried out several other makes of machines but your receiver has given the best satisfaction.

Several of my friends have installed Clar-A-Dynes in Oneonta, and wish to advise that all are giving great service and are highly recommended to anyone desiring a good radio.

Yours truly,

Gentlemen:
In March I purchased a 4-tube Clar-A-Dyne, Model M, and Manhattan Loud Speaker, and I feel that I should let you know of the satisfaction it has been to myself and family.

It is no trouble to get distant stations, and we find the machine very clear and easy to operate.

We believe the Clar-A-Dyne is superior to all other machines we have listened over.

Yours truly,
F. A. Lyons

Gentlemen:
The four-tube Clar-A-Dyne I purchased of you is giving great satisfaction. Only once have I been bothered with the local lighting plant. That was on a bad night and I was tuned too high on WEAF New York city.

There are a lot of radios in town that are far more expensive which will not operate when the lighting plant is in operation. I have had the following stations on a Manhattan loud speaker: WOR Newark, WGY Schenectady, WFI Philadelphia, KDKA Pittsburgh, PA., WJY New York city, WDAR Philadelphia, WSB Atlanta, GA., WDAP and WJAZ and KYW Chicago, WTAM Cleveland, WRC Washington, WHAM Rochester, WSAI Cincinnati, WEAL Minneapolis, Minn., WGI Medford, Mass., WHM New York, WCBA Zion, Ill., WGAR Buffalo.

I can highly recommend the four-tube Clar-A-Dyne radio.

Yours truly,
J. D. Kimball.

The CLAR-A-DYNE is built for Loud Speaker Use

THE CLARADYNE, like 87% of radios manufactured today, is non-regenerative, having one stage of Radio Frequency, Detector and two stages of Audio Frequency. This combination is recognized as the best arrangement for it combines distance and volume without the distortion oftentimes caused by regeneration. One of the first things users exclaim is: My! How Clear!
